Today finished the side notes
for the index, that is the red

Then started placing the page numbers on the galley proofs, that to save time I had to use, especially with regard to volume 1.

Worked on the index this morning.

Went to the Cavarnie's New Year party tonight.

The year ends with volume 1 in press or about to go to press. Volume 2 is in page proof except the bibliography, which is in galley, and the index, which I am now working on.
